-----O-----

Previous branch office directories covering the marketing and regulatory activities under the Bureau of Agricultural Economics carried the names of all personnel attached to these offices. However, in the first edition of this publication under the Agricultural Marketing Service there has been included only the name of the officer in charge of each branch office, and in certain instances coordinating or regional supervisory officials. This change was made because of the turnover in personnel that occurs from time to time in these branch offices.

This directory includes only the points at which permanent office quarters are maintained, and does not include points at which Agricultural Marketing Service employees are merely stationed but do not have actual office facilities.
